
ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE.

THE SOUTH AND EAST SHAKEN UP BY THE EARTH'S CONVULSIONS.

The First Shock in Columbia in Sixteen Days—But Very Little Damage Done Besides Frightening the People—Two Shocks in Connecticut—Other Places.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 23.—The first shock of earthquake of any consequence that has been felt here for sixteen days, around the sleeping inhabitants at 5:17 a. m. The shock lasted for about twenty seconds, and was accompanied by a loud rumbling sound. Many persons, particularly ladies, were considerably alarmed, and started to run from their houses in their night clothes. A heavy wind and thunder storm passed over the city shortly before the shock.

At Summerville the shock was very severe. A gentleman came here today from Charleston to rent a house for his family. He says that the women were greatly alarmed by the shock this morning and that he is certain that his family there any longer. He predicts that if the commotion on the earth continues much longer the minds of many women will be wrecked. No damage was done in Summerville, except to unfinished or cracked buildings. Some of those who had returned to their homes are again leaving.

At Charleston, S. C., Sept. 23.—The people of Charleston were today for ten minutes past five by another shock of earthquake. It equaled in severity that on the night of September 8, and its duration was about two seconds. Within a few moments after the quake the streets were alive with people awakened from their slumbers, but when they found that the force of the shock had exhausted itself, they returned to their homes. It is pleasant to note that the shaking up has left no damage to the minds of the people. The shock appears to have been quite general throughout the lower and middle sections of the state and in portions of Georgia.

Two Shocks in Connecticut. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 23.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt at 6:30 in the morning. Residents of North Washington avenue, on the outside of the city, heard the jarring sound, and their evidence is corroborated by many others who saw pictures and gas chandeliers swinging to and fro at the same hour. It was so early in the day that few people were stirring, and consequently there was not a general knowledge of the tremor. The sensation is described as precisely that of two years ago, when the tremor was much greater. There was an interval of a minute between the two shocks.

At Augusta, Georgia. AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 23.—A distinct shock of earthquake was felt here at 4:50 a. m., and the uneasiness and dread existing two weeks ago have again partially taken possession of the people. In some localities the citizens rushed from their houses, but beyond a general fright and an astonishing revival of religious exercises in the colored churches, no damage was done. The report comes in from Langley that two houses which were seriously shaken by the big earthquake of the 11th were thrown down by the morning's shock. They had not been inhabited, however.

VETERANS OF THE LATE WAR.

First Annual Reunion of the Grand Army Posts in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 23.—This is a big day for the veterans of the late war in this city and vicinity. The Grand Army posts of this county are holding their first annual reunion here and the town is crowded with soldiers and their families. The parade is prettier and more extensive than they have seen for many years. The railroad trains arriving in the city have all had special cars which were packed.

On every hand the national colors can be seen and the business places, as well as many private houses, present brilliant appearances. At several points on the route of parade large flags hang suspended across the streets, while hundreds float from the different buildings. They bear the inscription, "Welcome comrades," "welcome veterans," etc. The display of bunting, evergreen, Grand Army badges is very great. The parade was composed of twelve posts, having in line more than a thousand veterans. In the afternoon McGraw's park was filled to witness the wheelbarrow and sack races by the soldiers. The festivities end with speeches and a camp fire in the rink.

How Law Test Case. TOLEDO, O., Sept. 23.—At Bowling Green, the county seat of Wood county, which is recently adopted prohibition under the Dow law, Victor Foxworth, a saloon keeper, was tried for violating the law. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The supporters of the law are jubilant, as the case was hotly contested and was upon as a test case. A bill of exceptions was filed by the defendant's attorneys, and the case will be appealed to the supreme court. The defense was that the saloon keeper was only the agent of the Finlay Brewing company, of this city. That the company rented the room, paid the United States internal revenue tax, and that the Dow law could not prevent the sale in this manner of beer in quantities of one gallon and upwards. This was the point on which the defense relied. There are several towns in this section of the state which have adopted local option, and where this mode of evading the tax has been adopted.

Good Samaritans. BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 23.—The second biennial session of the right worshipful National Grand Council Independent Order of Good Samaritans and Daughters of North America, continued its deliberations today. The report of Julia A. Arthur, of Kentucky, superintendent of juveniles, gave the membership of that department as 5,000, embraced in forty lodges in various parts of the state. There are several in the aggregate in the treasury. The following officers were elected for the ensuing two years: Rev. J. L. H. Swears, of New York, right worshipful national grand chief; Jacob A. Sexton, of Maryland, right worshipful grand secretary; Amelia S. Carter, of Delaware, right worshipful national grand treasurer; Julia A. Arthur, of Kentucky, superintendent of juveniles.

Burned to Death. WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 23.—Early in the morning the national fire alarm sounded from the street, kept by an aged widow named Jones, was destroyed by fire and Mrs. Jones, who lived above the store, was burned to death.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.
